About:

About: Join published poet and teaching artist Heidi Mordhorst in a multiarts workshop for creative kids! We'll read poems about spring nature objects, go outside to collect our own, and create installations & mandalas with those objects. Then we'll compose short poems to go with our creations. We'll publish a photo-anthology of our work and share it with families at the last session. The small group size means Ms. Heidi can offer the right support for each writer's stage of development!
